Here's What's Shakin' at the Copper Shaker

The greatly anticipated opening of the Copper Shaker by the former crew that ran The Cask & Ale is finally here! St. Petersburg Foodies were honored to be invited to the "Friends & Family" private opening last night, and we were certainly impressed, but not surprised. The Grand Opening to the public is tonight, Friday, June 30. The hours are 4:30 pm - 3:00 am.

When Jeremy Wallace and Jeff Catherell opened The Cask & Ale in late 2013, we were two of the first customers to check them out, and we have felt like part of the family ever since. I'm sure that there are many other people that have been made to feel the same way.

It's not just the physical place, or the name of the place—it's the people that run it, and the cast of characters that supports them—and the massive amounts of charisma, charm, and friendliness of the owners that permeates the staff as well. You can tell that everyone here truly loves what they do. This is the kind of place that I want to drink at ... and eat ... because the food is super good too.

You can see the drink menu below. We had the Coochi Cutter, Last Summer, The Unusual Suspects, Cousin Named Jeff, and The Grind (with Kahwa espresso)—and we loved them all!

Coochi Cutter & Last Summer (not on printed menu - Reyka Vodka, watermelon, lime, mint, salt.)
